C&W opens Hungary office 08/11/2007 11:43:00

Cushman & Wakefield Hospitality has opened an office in Hungary, led by new recruit associate director Sasha Golubovic.

The company has further bolstered its international team with the appointment of Andrés Soldevila to its Madrid office.

Golubovic worked most recently for Jones Lang LaSalle Hotels in Munich as a vice president, prior to this as CEE development manager for Domina Hotels & Resorts, Milan and as a consultant at TRI Hospitality Consulting, Dubai.

Soldevila joined from Pierre & Vacances in Spain, where he was an executive assistant manager responsible for completing market opportunity studies and economic and financial viability of hotel/condo-hotel development projects for the Pierre & Vacances, Maeva and P&V City (future Adagio, JV with Accor) brands.
